

Café Newsletter

February 1, 2007

Quote of the month:

In the arithmetic of love, one plus one equals everything, and two minus one equals nothing.

~ Mignon McLaughlin

Welcome to yet another edition of Assyrian Café Newsletter. Yet another month behind us and Assyrian Café still continues to grow and prosper, with an unimaginable amount of people becoming members this month. New things have hit our website this last month, things such as new songs, Google Calendar and new Podcast videos. But something extra special this month bring us, which couples around the world look forward to every year is, Valentine's Day. Once a year where boyfriends, girlfriends, friends, husbands and wives show their partners just how much they mean to them. No matter how big or small the gift is the gesture speaks volumes.

WILL YOU BE MY VALENTINES?

To most people, oh okay, to me! Valentine's Day just means another holiday where cooperate super powers can cash in, just like Christmas, Easter and other holidays and us the consumers gullible to buy into all their marketing schemes. But behind the expensive roses, and the exquisite chocolate lays a deeper meaning of what Valentine's truly holds. There are many stories that explain the origin of Valentine's Day, but the main theme linked with Valentine's Day is cupid with his bow and arrow. He is one of the many Greek Gods where it's believed his influence and interference was behind the unordinary human behavior which most of us call love Cupid was to shoot his "arrow of love" into someone causing them to fall in love with the first person they saw. Valentine's Day started appearing in 14th Century, specifically in England and France. On the February 14th lovers would exchange notes of love to one another, calling each other their "Valentine". And so the tradition has lasted over a Century and I believe will continue to last for many more. In the Name of Valentines, the teams here at Assyrian Café have organized a contest and the winner receives a bouquet of flowers delivered to who ever you want in USA and Canada. For information about entering the contest, click on the link below:

WHO LIKE TO PARTY, PARTY? I LIKE TO PARTY, PARTY!

As if our music collection here at Assyrian Café wasn't choc blocked, the team has decided to upload some more familiar faces and give us, Assyrian Café users a wider variety of music to listen to. With a total of 2000 new song added to our collection you'll never have a boring second on your watch. Look out for the new music hitting our website soon.

WHAT EVER TICKLES YOUR JOLLY!

After viewing the new videos on the Podcast section, my jolly was seriously tickled. The new videos here at Assyrian Café, have brought endless cries of laughter to my eyes, as I play and replay time and time again. One of my personal favorites is the Assyrian Shrek wedding, which I think is a must see for all you Assyrian Café users out there. So get clicking and start viewing.

GOOGLE CALENDAR....WHAAA?

You also must be thinking, Google Calendar, what's that about? Well let me break it down to you all. Google Calendar is a service that you can use to add formal events, parties, church events, etc. But here's the unexpected twist! There are two ways which you could submit events. The first one would be to email an event to cafecalendar@gmail.com and we will post the event. Or the other option would be if you're signed up with Google, you're able to share your events with Assyrian Café just by sharing your Google Calendar with cafecalendar@gmail.com. That was a mouth full aye folks.

STEP RIGHT UP AND SIGN OUR GUEST BOOK

Ever since the website was opened there have been a flood of kind words from people all around the world thanking and congratulating the team here at Assyrian Café on such great work. With endless comments, the team at Assyrian Café is truly grateful for such kind words. They would like to take this moment to thank all that have spared their time to write something truly special. Thank you!

SHOW ME THE MONEY!

As you may have noticed Assyrian Café have a special section dedicated to hard working Assyrians and the businesses they have established. The business directory is a search engine helping people to locate local businesses that they would like catering to their needs. A total of 58 businesses have been added to the business directory, meaning more variety for you! Assyrian Café would like to encourage users to add businesses they know of to our directory. To do so, click on the link below:

BLAH BLAH BLAH

Some say the continuing use of the Assyrian language will see our existence in the new future. I firmly believe that statement is the key to our existence. But among many I'm guilty of not using it as often as I should. With a recent question posted in Social Discussion it asked users what language do you speak at home? Most of us being Assyrians the common Answer were speaking Assyrian, but English followed almost in every answer. But as true True-Umtaneta she is, Assyrian was the only language she spoke at home, good on you True-

Umtaneta, you're an example to us all. So I stand before you other Assyrians, promising I will speak more Assyrian at home and less English. They say Charity starts at home, there's some truth in that.

SHE SHOOTS AND SHE SCORES

Time and time again Bubbles puts our old scores to shame. I personally have put my dreams of one day regaining my Tetris score to rest. The score bubbles got is almost impossible to beat. But yet again Bubbles has out done her self, by gaining a whooping 88,200 in Sports Smash, literally smashing Assyrian Guy's score. Keep up the good work Bubbles, cheers!

ASSYRIAN YOUTH

Assyrian Café warmly welcomes the Assyrian youth to use our website as a place to post any events and publications. Assyrian Café is excited to see our Assyrian youth participating in our culture and we will endlessly support them in all their quests.

GO BEARS!

As specially requested by Assyrian Guy, the Bears are finally going to the Super Bowl for the first time in 21 years. As sea of excitement floods the city of Chicago, Bears supporters' prepare themselves up for the make or break game. But how much do the people of Chicago believe in their ability to win, well as they say "money talks" and there's no better way then checking online betting markets as the season progresses. For Assyrian Guy's sake, I hope they win. GO BEARS!

For a great time go to <http://www.assyriancafe.com>

THANK YOU!

Special thanks go out to our web designer, newsletter writer, admins, moderator, members and guests at Assyrian Café
